Part II. Syllabus Statement

Boise State's Foundational Studies Program provides undergraduates with a broad-based education that spans the entire university experience. MUS 100 satisfies 3 credits of the Foundational Studies Program's Disciplinary Lens – Visual and Performing Arts requirements. It supports the following University Learning Outcomes, along with a variety of other course-specific goals.

ULO 9. Apply knowledge and methods characteristic of the visual and performing arts to explain and appreciate the significance of aesthetic products and creative activities

MUS 100: Introduction to Music develops students’ understanding and context of; 1) the fundamentals of Western Art Music’s compositional styles, genres, and seminal composers, 2) art music’s relationship to all other artistic disciplines, and 3) the cultural and societal influences affecting creative and artistic processes. This course helps to achieve the goals of the Foundations program by focusing on the following course learning outcomes.

After successful completion of this course, you will be able to:

- Identify the cultural contexts within which art music fundamental compositional techniques have developed
- Explain the historical and cultural influences that have led to the growth and development of many genres of art music
- Analyze aurally and develop a listening skill for identifying the many factors that create an aesthetic, emotional, and physical musical experiences
- Reflect on the live, art music performance relative to both previous and personal perceptions of all musical styles and genres and information synthesized in the Introduction to Music class

Part III. Design for Accessibility

In the space below, briefly describe plans for providing access to course materials and activities (or equivalent alternatives) to all students in adherence with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Although these plans may vary from instructor to instructor, the descriptions provided below should be representative of intended departmental and instructor practices. (See example statements appended to this form.)

MUS 100: Introduction to Music: All posted pdf reading assignments will be checked for readability by a screen reader. (The department will ask Academic Technologies to help with a review of these electronic materials.) Whenever available, videos chosen for use in the course will be those that have been close-captioned by the content producer to provide access to students with hearing impairment. PowerPoint presentations used in class lectures, insofar as they contain graphs or other visual representations of content, will be verbally described to students on an as-needed basis. We will add textual descriptions accessible by screen readers to images used on the course web site. Extra time on tests, oral examinations, or other accommodations will be provided to students as needed per the policies of the Part IV. Evidence of Quality Course Design

Please use the table below (column headings for this table should not be changed) to provide evidence that the course has been carefully designed and is clearly aligned with Foundational Studies Program desired ULOs. All sections of the course should share similar student learning outcomes. Teaching and Learning Activities and Assessment Methods may vary from instructor to instructor. Please use the table to report representative strategies that may be used. Assessment activities used for reporting to the Foundational Studies Program should be consistent across different sections of the course.

Please see below.
